"It has been nearly 6 months since I first came to Australia. Having a chance to approach a new country, a new culture and also a new lifestyle makes me feel very excited. However, everything is not like what I expected of. After the first few days, I just felt lonely, nostalgic mixed with some bad feelings. Fortunately, I was better day after day, especially when I enrolled at this school, Bankstown Senior College. I had more opportunities to make friends with people who are from different cultures, who live away from their families and their countries. We share the same feelings and thoughts and always try to help each other as much as we can. I'm really lucky to meet and have such great friends. They help me a lot to overcome this hard time. Furthermore, the teachers in this school are also great. They are keen on helping their students. They are very kind, friendly and work with great passion. Being a part of this school, I don't feel lonely any more. I just feel warm and have found a new home there."

The school provided good access to information resources for better study and education. Chester Hill High School offers very strong support for international students who recently arrived in Australia, helping them to quickly adapt to a new education system. "I came to live in Australia around 3 years ago. First, I was in the IEC (Intensive English Centre) and learnt how to speak and write English. And now, I'm enjoying my high school life.

In this high school, we get to do a lot of our learning through experiences. For example, in 2012 I was involved in WotOpera which is a music program. We wrote and created our own opera. This project gave me the opportunity to compose music, play it on the piano and also sing the songs. I did this with my school mates and performed on the stage of Sydney University's Seymour Centre.

Fairfield High School has been great for me. I am currently in Year 10 and have been given lots of opportunities to be involved in special projects and make good friends."
